

From the Continental Kennel Club Inc.

SEPPALA SIBERIAN SLEDDOG

BREED GROUP: GROUP 2: SPITZ AND NORDIC BREEDS

WEIGHT: MALES: 30-65 POUNDS.
FEMALES: 30-65 POUNDS.

HEIGHT: MALES: 19-24 INCHES.
FEMALES: 19-24 INCHES.

The SEPPALA SIBERIAN SLEDDOG is a natural dog of moderate size, pleasing personality and a physical and mental construction adapted to the needs of rapid long-distance sled travel with a light load in an arctic environment. The purpose of the International Seppala Siberian Sleddog Club (ISSSC) is the preservation, advancement, and promotion of this special dog as a working breed, separate and apart from all other breeds and sled dogs. The ISSSC's goal is to develop and support only programs and breeding practices that treat equally: performance, soundness, and companionship.

THE INTERNATIONAL SEPPALA SIBERIAN SLEDDOG CLUB (ISSSC), incorporated in 2002, is the recognized breed club for the Seppala Siberian Sleddog as recognized by the Continental Kennel Club. The ISSSC has set forth the breed standard and established a membership club for the purpose of managing the future of the breed while maintaining a balance of performance, heritage, attitude, and genetic viability. For more information on the Seppala Siberian Sleddog, the Continental Kennel Club. <https://ckcusa.com/breeds/seppala-siberian-sleddog/>